

INTRODUCTION

In this workbook you will get a (different) view of who you really are. And especially how you can change so that you become the person God the Father had in mind even before you were conceived.

In my own search (Piet) I noticed a great struggle with past events. Events that clouded my idea of how God the Father sees me. As I began to discover more of who God really was, thoughts about myself were drastically changed. I also began to view the world around me differently. Are you willing to let go of some thoughts about yourself and find out what God's thoughts about you are?

"Someone who is loved, valuable, good and destined to serve others with the talents and gifts the Father has created in you."

I Am begins in the first part with three principles that determine how you think about yourself. The second part goes more into how God looks at you and how you may stand and move in this world from your new identity.

This workbook is part 1 in phase Serve. Serve is the final part of our discipleship course. Part 1 of Serve teaches disciples to become a servant leader and to understand and use their identity and authority for the Kingdom of God.

This workbook is all yours. Write along, underline and let us know what you learn. During this seminar, we will take the time to explain principles and apply them directly to your life. As such, we expect you to go home with new experiences and insights about how God sees you and that it will impact the things you do in your life.
